The BLUE LIGHT series is a bestselling series which gives young readers between 9-12 yrs, exciting crime mysteries to solve. Author Hanne Kristin Rohde draws from her experience and knowledge from many years as an investigator on the police force in creating a compelling and believable universe.

Astrid is awakened in the middle of the night by a glittering blue light blinking at her. The light has come to her before when it has something to tell her. She senses a sudden fear -- something has happened to her horse Rocky. Astrid lives with her bohemian-lawyer dad who works from home and drives around in a red Ferrari. Her mother is a doctor working in a refugee camp in Africa. To compensate for her mother's absence, her grandmother often stays with them. She is the one who realises that Astrid has a gift, a kind of strong intuition that comes to her in the form of a blue light. But Astrid doesn't talk about it. For her, it is important to be just like everyone else. Especially when she becomes friends with Yusuf, the cute new boy in her class.

The series is based on current issues that today's youth's may come across in their everyday life, such as, sharing nude photos, party drugs, animal abuse and theft, and takes the readers through both crime cases and police work in practice through the school's coolest detective couple, Astrid and Yusuf. The two friends are constantly on the trail of harmful crime, and to take risks is inevitable - anything to solve the cases.
