

Stilton Literary Agency

Knit Me!

Original title: Strikk meg!
Publisher: Gyldendal Forlag 2017
Non Fiction / Hobby/Hand craft
67500 Words

Knitting something for someone is a true declaration of love – and it should be fun!

Knitting something for someone is a true declaration of love – and it should be fun! The patterns in this book are varied, and include exciting twists and details that are easy to add. The difficulty level varies from small, simple items to slightly larger and more challenging projects – but common to all of them is that the patterns are easy to read and the garments easy to put together. Nederst i skjemaet

Knit Me! features 70 garment patterns for people of all ages – babies, children, young people, women and men. Several different techniques are represented across the various models, and regardless of whether you like structured, patterned or cabled knits – or just simple straight-forward garments – you're sure to find a project that suits you.

Marianne Jansson Bjerkmann

Marianne Jansson Bjerkmann was born and grew up in Fredrikstad before she moved to Halden, where she now lives with her husband Morgan and their two sons. She holds a master's degree in food science, and currently works as a product developer. As a knitter, she is perhaps best known for being the woman behind the aliases @knitsandpieces on Instagram and Marianne J. Bjerkmann on Ravelry.com. In recent years she has published many knitting patterns digitally, including her popular 'snow leaf' pattern.