Jubel & Baluba. Sew clothes for kids

Original title: Jubel & Baluba
Publisher: Gyldendal Forlag 2019
Non Fiction / Hobby/Hand craft
Norwegian PDF

The sewing adventure started with the popular Happy Days pants, now ending up in a collection of over 40 different designs. Their most popular patterns – such as the Jubel dress, Jubaluba onesize, Ziplock pants, Jubaluba jacket and Jubaluba hat – are joined by a whole range of new designs in the famous Jubel & Baluba style.

Here you'll find something for the absolute beginner as well as those with a little more experience, from the utterly simple to details that give designs that little something special. The designs come in sizes 50–140, with clear instructions and a sewing school with explanatory illustrations. Full-size patterns are included, naturally. Whether you're sewing for trendy boys or girls, romantic dresses, shorts or perhaps a cool retro-suit – with this book, Jubel & Baluba hope that there is something for every taste!

Ane Sund is one of the authors behind the bestselling Sew Happy Clothes for Happy Children (2013) and she's finally back with a new book, this time with her partner, Ida Gravdal. Together the seamstresses run the website www.jubelogbaluba.no, where they sell their own patterns.

Ane Sund and Ida Gravdal

Ane Sund has two children and is a trained childcare worker. She has always been interested in hand crafting, and in 2011 she won a competition for handmade design. Together with Kristin Thorsnes she has published a book about sewing clothes for children.

Ida Gravdal lives in Sørum with Ane Sund and her two children. Ida and Ane sew under the name Jubel & Baluba.
