

Stilton Literary Agency

Food for Friends. To be served at parties and other pleasant gatherings

Original title: Vennemat
Publisher: Frisk Forlag 2022
Non Fiction / Cookbook

Ida Marie Aamot Storbakken

Ida Marie is a trained chef and sociologist and she runs the popular food blog and Instagram account Ida Maries mat.

She loves to teach and inspire others to cook tasty and good, homemade food,

More than 90 recipes that will impress your guests, over and over again!

This cookbook will make you want to invite the people you love to a wonderful meal. The recipes in this book are perfect for all kinds of pleasant gatherings with friends, family, colleagues or club members.

With Food For Friends, the author wishes to inspire you and to help you prepare good, tasty dishes, drinks and desserts, without stressing either before or after the guests have arrived. Everything that can be prepared in advance is invaluable when you have a dinner party.

The recipes are intended for a large number of guests, and you can choose to serve anything from salads, soups, pasta, stews, fish and meat dishes, to tapas, sushi, desserts and drinks. Accessories and basic recipes are the icing on the cake.

Each recipe has complementary and detailed descriptions of how to prepare the food, and what can be prepared in advance, helping you to improve your cooking skills.

The goal is to make you succeed in cooking, feel comfortable in the kitchen, and not least, to be able to enjoy the food together with your guests.