Death Watching

Original title: Döden som vakar
Publisher: Bokfabriken 2020
Fiction / Crime novel

Death Watching*, is the fourth book of six in the psychological suspense series with hospital life as a backdrop. Sold more than 100.000 copies!

When Andreas begins to put all the pieces together, a picture of the most forbidden emerges.

Andreas and Stina are living happily in their large bonus family and are enjoying life with baby Julia. Andreas worries about one of his seriously ill patients, who has her father by her side day and night. When she finally wakes up from the coma, the father has suddenly disappeared and the patient claims that her parents have long since passed away.

At home, Stina begins to feel that she has more ambitions than just being a mother of five and decides to take up her old hairdressing dreams, and she and Andreas have to adapt to a new everyday life.

Andreas can't let go of the mystery of the missing father, and he soon discovers similar cases around Sweden. Who is this man and why did he pretend to be the patient's closest relative? When Andreas begins to put all the pieces together, a picture of the most forbidden emerges.

Anne-Marie Schjetlein

Anne-Marie Schjetlein is a trained specialist nurse and she has mainly worked in the Swedish surgical sector. In addition to her writing, she works as a leader in skills development at a large hospital in Stockholm. Life in a hospital is a compressed world that oscillates between sorrow, suffering, pain, life and death, but also joy and hope. In the blink of an eye, everything can change from euphoria to disaster. A very suitable backdrop for suspense novels, according to the author.

Schjetlein made her debut as an author in 2014. The first title of her new suspense series was published in fall 2024.

With a skill for drama, relationships and everyday realism, Anne-Marie Schjetlein captivates both readers and critics.
